

Tuesday	Thursday	CT ELDS Alignment
	2 Easter Celebration! That silly bunny is sending us on an Easter Egg hunt! Please let me know if you are able to help with this! We will begin at 11!	C2. Recognizing and responding to emotions: Recognizes and labels a wide range of emotions in others and shows empathy toward others B1. Visual Motor Integration Uses small objects easily
7 If you could fly on a kite, where would you let it take you? Today we will create our own!	9 Let's build a boat! Will it float?	A2: Understanding Language: Follows 2-3 step directions that do not involve familiar routines D1 Engaging with Text: Stays interested in a book being read to them for short periods of time. Recites familiar phrases of songs, books and rhymes
14 April Vacation! No School!	16 April Vacation! No School!	This week Miss Shelby will be sailing the ocean! I will not be available by phone or email until April 20! Enjoy your break!
21 First comes the caterpillar, then the Chrysalis and finally a beautiful butterfly! Let's explore the butterfly life cycle!	23 A Good Place read aloud. Today we will make a good place for a bug to live.. a craft of course!	A.1 Curiosity and Initiative: Seeks new knowledge and skills; asks questions and seeks new challenges and experiences B 4. Symbolic Representation: Uses or makes a prop to represent another object (e.g., uses blocks to make a cash register)
28 April Showers bring.... Mud! Let's decorate a pair of rain boots! Bring a pair of your own so we can stomp in the mud!	30 April Showers Also Bring May Flowers	A2 Visual Arts: Uses a variety of materials to create art with growing control and for personal expression A2 investigation: makes simple predictions of what will happen next

